

HELLO, I'm Jr. Front-End Developer from Spain, currently residing in Germany since 2018, with a background in others work fields. In 2022, I made the decision to embrace new challenges and explore the programming world. The learning process, which initially presented difficulties, unexpectedly revealed a source of joy and satisfaction. I've gained previous experience in developing my own projects and am looking for the opportunity to work as a professional programmer.
